APRIL 2017

Recognition

Recognition is the title of the new album that I finally finished recording last month. After reexamining the songs to decide the order, it seemed that recognition was a theme running through many of the lyrics: not in seeking recognition (though the temptation is always there) but in recognizing my sin and my need for a Savior. Some of my favorite passages from the Bible show up in small ways in the songs: Luke 18 and the parable of the Pharisee and the tax collector, Matthew 5 and the Sermon on the Mount and Mark 2 where Jesus states that he “has come not to call the righteous, but sinners.” I’m thankful that God through his Word and the Holy Spirit is ever reminding me of my need to recognize my sin, confess it, repent of it, and ask forgiveness. This is all with the hope and desire to become more like Christ in every way.

Our marriage mentoring with our first pre-marital couple has been going well, and we will be starting pre-marital mentoring soon with another couple. Please pray for God’s continued leading in these marriages.

Praise God for a grant we recently received from B.O.O.M. to help our ministry.

Praise for our 6th Annual FCA Game Night outreach. 94 students attended! Pray for open hearts as the Gospel was powerfully shared.

Praise to God for Scott’s recent opportunity to speak at a senior boy’s barbeque. We pray that seeds were planted and that God’s Word would not return void.
